

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Apparatus and methods are described for biasing amplifiers with multiple outputs. A semiconductor die may include a reference Field Effect Transistor (FET) integrated on the semiconductor die and coupled to an amplifier integrated on the 5 semiconductor die. A voltage offset circuit may also be integrated on the semiconductor die for determining the voltage needed to operate the amplifier.